

NEW* ! – Enrichment Opportunity for French Immersion Students

For the first time, a French Immersion credit course will be offered in summer school. This is a unique opportunity open to all grade 10, 11 and 12 French Immersion students.

HSP3M Introduction to Anthropology, Psychology and Sociology

This course introduces the theories, questions and issues that are the major concerns of anthropology, psychology and sociology. Students will develop an understanding of the way social scientists approach the topics they study and the research methods they employ. Students will be given the opportunities to explore theories from a variety of perspectives and to become familiar with current thinking on a range of issues that have captured the interest of classical and contemporary social scientists in the three disciplines

Why take this course?

This course will:

- appeal to senior students
- appeal to different types of learners
- provide ample opportunities to practice and develop spoken French through oral discussion, dialogue and presentation
- discuss topical themes such as social justice, diversity, equity, and where you stand
- develop your research and inquiry skills
- count as a compulsory senior Social Science credit
- count as a prerequisite to a College or University program

When will this course be offered? July 5th- 30th, 2010
8:30 – 2:00

Where will classes be held? St. James, Guelph

If you are interested in signing up for this course, contact your Guidance Counsellor.

 This course will run based on numbers*